World Riots Greet May 1

Worst Scene At Japan, Newly Freed

By The Associated Press

May Day riots and disorders, bristling military parades and East-West word battles broke out all over the map yesterday. There was more violence and more words spilled than in years.

Japan, turned loose on her own from the occupation yoke only this week, had her worst riot since the war when 20,000 Communist-led anti-American marchers fought police with clubs and stones in front of the imperial palace. Hundreds were injured, including some Americans, and one person was reported killed.

There were cracked heads in split Berlin, clashes in Tunisia and Algeria where several were injured, brawls in Israel, and cordons of alert police on hand in nearly every big city of Western Europe.

Military Displays

The Soviet Union and her Communist antagonist, Yugoslavia, led the field in displays of military preparedness.

Tokyo's Communists, swinging clubs, charged 1,000 steel-helmeted police, knocked 218 of them to the ground and seriously injured 51.

Twelve American automobiles were overturned and burned, two U.S. sailors were tossed into the palace moat, the wife of a navy man was roughed up and several other Americans were shoved and hit.

Some three million Japanese attended big rallies in other cities on May 1, chosen by the socialist international in 1889 as an international labor day. But elsewhere there was no disorder.

A million Germans turned out for rival rallies in Berlin, where East and West come into roughest day-to-day contact in Europe. About 5,000 young rowdies from East Berlin thrust into the French sector and were rudely jolted by police nightsticks.

Tossed In Jail

Seventy-three Communists were tossed into jail, and the injured comrades were paraded with their bleeding heads down East Berlin's Unter Den Linden to make capital of the incident.

East German President Wilhelm Pieck keyed his May day oration before 500,000 regimented listeners to the Soviet theme of German unity and the threat that if Western Germany re-arms for the West, then Eastern Germany will rearm "for its own protection."

West German President Theodor Heuss told an equally large gathering in West Berlin that Germany wants unity—with "true liberty."

Tunician and Algerian nationalists clashed with police in those places. French authorities had banned May Day demonstrations. Police fired when about 50 Tunisians marched on the palace of the pro-French Premier. One Arab was wounded. Several were injured on both sides in Oran, Algeria, when police broke up a May day meeting.

Stalin Reviews Parade

Moscow's May day celebration, always the biggest and most colorful, was tame but impressive. Seventy-two-year-old Prime Minister Stalin, pausing in the arduous climb to the top of Lenin's tomb, beamed and waved to thunderous applause and then reviewed a majestic parade of troops, armor, peasants, workers, and an air show led by his son, Vassily.

Standing by Stalin, Marshal Leonid A. Govorov declared Russia would deal a devasting blow to any attack from "The Imperialist aggressors." He denounced the U.S. and British governments as aggressors and charged that "American barbarians are carrying out the greatest crime against humanity—making use of germ weapons in Korea and China."

If the earth stopped moving in its orbit, it would fall into the sun within two months.

Luxury Ship Found Down In Brazil

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, May 1—(AP)—The burned, broken wreckage of a Pan American luxury stratocruiser that vanished Tuesday was found in Northern Brazil today with no evidence that any of the 50 persons aboard, including 19 Americans, lived through the crash.

A vast air hunt over 320,000 square miles of jungles, river basins and plateau land finally located the ruins of the 1½ million dollar double-decked liner in the Indian country between the towns of Barreiras and Carolina—on course to the end.

Air line officials said the find was made by a C-46 Pan American cargo clipper, piloted by Capt. Jim Kowing of Miami, 287 miles southwest of Carolina, a Tocantins river town itself 1,100 miles north-northwest of Rio De Janeiro.

Broken In Two

The stratocruiser, lost on one of the line's El Presidente flights from Buenos Aires to New York, was reported to have broken in two and scattered its charred wreckage on both sides of a 300-foot high hill.

U.S. air force paramedics—doctors and medical attendants equipped with parachutes — were dispatched to the scene from the port of Belem, 400 miles north of Carolina. They planned to drop as close as possible to the site of the crash, in a forested area where the Indians are regarded as semi-friendly.

To Trinidad

The stratocruiser was on a nonstop schedule for the 2,600 miles from Rio De Janeiro to port of Spain, Trinidad, when its last radio call was heard at 12:30 a.m. (CST) Tuesday by a station at Barreiras, in Bahia State. It was 240 miles beyond Barreiras at the time and reported all well. It went down only about 400 miles northwest of Barreiras.

Over-Emphasis Of Education Deplored

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—A health administrator protested today against what he termed "the overemphasis upon education in modern society" because "all children are not in need of advanced education."

Dr. David Slight, superintendent of mental health centers for the Illinois department of public welfare, said "there is a large gap between the achievement of physical maturity and the time when social responsibility is expected."

He addressed a panel discussion at the 21st annual conference on youth and community service.

Harlington Wood of Springfield, former Sangamon county judge, opened the three-day meeting earlier today. He pleaded for preservation of human dignity.

"We should not be interested in curbing growth or molding personalities into a set pattern of our own making," Wood said. "The standards are not of our own whim. They were set a long time ago and have weathered the storms of the centuries."

McMahon Tosses Hat Into Arena

By the Associated Press

Sen. Brien McMahon tossed his hat into the ring yesterday (Thursday)—getting a pat on the back from President Truman — as the fifth entry in the wide-open race for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Connecticut senator, chairman of the Senate-House atomic energy committee, is one of the first Roman Catholics to seek the presidency since the defeat of the late Al Smith in 1928.

In much the same vein as he has spoken about other party candidates, Truman told his news conference that McMahon is qualified for the presidency. And he added this comment: it looks like we are going to get some good candidates.

As for himself, Truman nailed down his March 29 announcement that he wouldn't run again. If nominated, he said, he would say no.

McMahon announced his candidacy as a "liberal Democrat" and indicated that generally he favors the Roosevelt-Truman domestic and foreign policies.

Rescue 7 Airmen After Ship Lands Off Florida Port

Tarpon Springs, Fla., May 1—(AP)—Seven airmen were rescued but seven are missing after a B-29 bomber crashed in the Gulf of Mexico during low level gunnery practice today.

Little hope was held for the missing. The survivors remained in the vicinity of the crash for an hour and a half on a life raft without spotting any of them. A search by planes and surface craft was unsuccessful.

The plane was from MacDill Air Force base at Tampa. It went down about 30 miles north-northwest of here.

MacDill said the survivors include Capt. James M. Leonard, Tampa, formerly of Worthington, Minn.

The survivors reported the plane floated nose down about a minute after crashing, then sank quickly. They swam to an emergency raft released from the plane and climbed aboard. A Tarpon Springs fishing boat rescued them.

Col. John Proctor, operations officer of the 305th, said the cause of the accident had not been determined.

Names of the missing will not be released until later.

Economy Group Stopped As House Passes Farm Bill

Washington, May 1 —(AP)— The congressional budget-cutting drive came to a dead stop tonight as the House passed a $724,003,669 appropriation bill for the agriculture department for fiscal year 1953.

The bill went to the Senate by voice vote after every attempt to reduce the funds it carries was beaten. In fact, the total loan authorization was boosted 10 million dollars beyond what the appropriations committee had recommended.

On money allotments, the House followed the recommendation of the appropriations committee in every respect except the loan authorization. The committee had pared $24,412,129 from amounts requested by the president.

Stevenson Assails GOP, Opens Door For Draft

Portland, Ore., May 1—(AP)—Democratic Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois said tonight that Republicans will rely on nostalgia and fear in their bid to win national political control.

"The Republican party will offer the American people the mirage of security that is not possible in the world today," he said in an address prepared for a Democratic Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

"It will continue to use the two instruments of illusion which nothing yet has been able to strike from its hands.

"One is nostalgia for an era that never can be brought back, a dream of turning history's clock back to a time when the world was simpler and the United States less powerful.

"The other," Stevenson said, "is fear—fear of what may happen if we accept the leadership from which in fact there can be no escape."

The governor said Democrats repudiate the illusion and bid the country seek safety in "realties."

Reporters Not Convinced

Earlier, at a news conference, Stevenson denied again that he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president.

But he failed to convince most of newspaper and radio reporters at the conference that he is "unavailable."

After hearing the denials—and the governor's refusal to answer questions bearing on the possibility that he might be drafted—Monroe Sweetland, Oregon Democratic national committeeman, said:

"I think the door is open to a draft."

Stevenson's address tonight was a commitment he made before his name was placed on the May 16 Oregon primary ballot. He has declared that he is not a candidate, and has asked that voters pass up his name.

Reads Statement

He read a prepared statement to the press.

"A man can run in good conscience for only one office at a time," he stated. "Also a man should fulfill his commitments—and my prior commitment was to seek reelection as governor of Illinois. That is all I want and all I will seek.

"I cannot speculate about hypothetical situations. But I do not believe there ever has been an unwilling draft of a man for the presidential nomination by either party. I doubt is such a thing is possible. That is all I can say on this subject."

His April 16 statement that he "could not accept" a presidential nomination was recalled. The governor was asked if he would be willing to have the words "could not" be changed to "will not." He refused to comment. He was asked also if he would hold to his refusal if delegates to the Democratic national convention chose him as a candidate.

"I cannot comment on that," he replied.

Stratton Advises Adlai: Attend To Your Duties

Springfield, Ill., May 1—(AP)—William G. Stratton, Republican nominee for governor, said today that Governor Stevenson should pay more attention to Illinois and not be "running around the country and saying he's not running for president."

"If the governor would spend more time watching his subordinates, we'd really have a better government," he said.

Stratton told about 250 delegates to the state federation of GOP Women's Clubs that the Democratic governor has been subject to the "most scandalous administration of any first term of any governor in the state."

"He's never taken a step to free himself from the vicious control of the Democratic leadership in Chicago," Stratton said.

Stratton attacked what he called the "stupidity and blunders" of the national foreign policy. He said Stevenson "the man who would like to be president, has been chief apologist for a policy exemplified by blunders that have cost us evehtual victory in the third world war."

He accused the Stevenson administration of a "spending spree."

"You remember the man who was going to build more roads for less and going to give more money to the schools? That's the same man who insisted on a legislative appropriation of $1,300,000,000 each biennium," Stratton asserted.

"Have you seen anything to be proud of for these hundreds of millions spent of tax funds under the present governor?"

Truman Says 'No' To Idea He'll Run Again

Washington, May 1 —(AP)— President Truman said emphatically today he would not run if nominated for another term.

When asked at a news conference whether he would go a step further and say he would not serve if elected—a statement attributed to Gen. William T. Sherman in 1884 but disputed by some historians—the President asked how he could be elected if he refused the nomination.

Truman had some good words to say for Senator McMahon (D-Conn), latest to announce for the Democratic presidential nomination, and again for Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, who has said he "could not accept" a presidential candidacy this summer.

The President denied published reports that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who is running neck and neck with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for Republican presidential nomination delegates, is in ill health.

On the hot steel controversy, he said all he wants to do is to get steel produced, that he's going to take every action possible to that end. He said he has no ambition to be a dictator and of course he will abide by the supreme court's decision in the matter.

A reporter mentioned a rumor that William O'Dwyer, former mayor of New York City, had resigned as ambassador to Mexico. Truman said that is not true.

Three Persons Accused Of 1950 Bank Robbery

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—Three persons, two of whom now are in prison, were accused today of robbing the First National Bank of Antioch, Ill., of $5,253 on March 3, 1950.

A federal grand jury returned an indictment against the two men and one woman, a former Ashland, Ky., high school teacher, before Judge John P. Barnes.

Those indicted are Mrs. Lucy Conlisk, 45, the former teacher; Edwin Hemmersbach, 27, of Chicago, and Charles E. Wilmink, 41, of Huntington, W.Va. Wilmink is at large.

Otto Kerner, Jr., U.S. district attorney, said Mrs. Conlisk, 6 feet tall and dressed in slacks and wearing a man's hat, drove the getaway car in the robbery.

She is serving a two to five year prison term in the penitentiary for women at Dwight, Ill. Hemmersbach was sentenced to the same length term. They and another man were charged with robbing a Chicago saloon Dec. 11, 1950. A customer was wounded by a shot fired during the holdup.

Amputee Jumps Up, Nabbed By Police

Chicago, May 1 —(AP)— Raymond Cable told police today his one-legged begging act paid $35 to $40 a day, enough for his plane trips from city to city.

Cable, 25, was wearing ragged overalls and was crouched against a loop building when police arrived. Police said Cable was begging and had one leg doubled under, as though he were an amputee. But when police came, Cable jumped up and ran a block before he was caught.

Cable, police said, related he usually worked only eastern cities and traveled between them by plane."

He was held without charge.

MACON MAN PLEADS GUILTY OF MURDER

Decatur, Ill., May 1—(AP)—William Leonard Baker, 48, of Decatur, pleaded guilty today to a charge of murdering his son-in-law, Dale E. Davis, also of Decatur.

Baker appeared before Judge Martin E. Morthland in Macon county circuit court to withdraw his previous plea of innocent. Judge Morthland set May 12 for sentencing.

Davis was shot to death at his home March 4.

OPS DIRECTOR RESIGNS

Peoria, Ill., May 1—(AP)—Golden A. McConnell, Peoria attorney, resigned today as director of enforcement for the Peoria district of the Office of Price Stabilization.

McConnell returned to private law practice.

The district includes a large portion of northern and central Illinois.

Marines Jolted By Atomic Blast At Yucca Flat

Las Vegas, Nev., May 1—(AP)—A new tactical A-bomb of fiery intensity today gave 2,150 entrenched Marines a solid jolt in their first nuclear maneuvers, but there were no casualties.

The brilliant bomb burst about 2,000 feet above Yucca flat, less than four miles from two picked combat battalions from Camp Pendleton, Calif., and Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The weapon selected for the test came from the Atomic Energy Commission's top secret drawer, and it was perhaps the brightest bomb seen in a daylight test here.

Newsmen, not permitted on the test site this time, saw a fire ball that lasted a full 10 seconds and continued to flicker in the subsequent nuclear cloud for perhaps another 5 seconds.

There was no concussion on Mt. Charleston, the news observation point 50 miles away, but the rumble of the blast and its echo were heard five minutes after the flash at 9:30 a.m. (10:30 a.m. CST).

The Marines were in foxholes and trenches, most of them 4½ feet deep.

Two hours later they proceeded toward Yucca island, the mythical enemy-held "atoll" centered on ground zero which was the objective of their maneuver.

The bomb was dropped from an air force B-50 from Kirtland Air Base, Albuquerque, N. M., at an elevation of probably 50,000 feet.

The detonation level of 2,000 feet put the Marines closer to an atomic burst than any troops had been before. The 1,500 army troops in last week's maneuvers were the same distance from ground zero, but the bomb exploded at 3,500 feet.

It was the fourth of the current spring series and the 16th nuclear explosion at the Nevada proving grounds since their activation in January, 1951.

Nylon Or Wool, Kids Will Wear Out Their Pants

London, May 1 —(AP)— The House of Commons learned today that nothing much can be done right now to make the seats of British schoolboys' pants wear longer.

Laborite Norman Dodds raised this basic issue. Dodds said experiments showed that a material made from a mixture of nylon and wool gave the longest mileage on active small boys.

The government, Dodds added, should aid manufacturers in making this new material available "and give hope to mothers of energetic children."

But the president of the board of trade, Peter Thorneycroft, said the trouble was that Britain was short of nylon. Thorneycroft added "it will be a long time before these cloths are generally available."

Conservative O. L. Prior-Palmer got in the last word with:

"Will the president remember that it is not only schoolboys who need protecting in their seats?"

THE BOYER GIRLS OBSERVE MAY 1 THEIR OWN WAY

Toronto, May 1—(AP)—Boy, oh boy, those girls in the Boyer family!

Linda Boyer, 4, got her foot caught in a sewer vent pipe last night.

At the same time, sister Barbara, 6, got a washer stuck on her finger.

Baby Janice, seven months, hit herself on the head with a bottle.

The fire department got Linda's foot out of the sewer and the washer off Barbara's finger. The baby had to soothe herself.

"What a night," sighed the mother, Mrs. Andrew Boyer.

One estimate is that ancient Rome used 92 million gallons of water a day.

Truman Urges Steel Union Head To Call Off National Strike

Passports To Isolate Travelers

By Edwards E. Bemar

Washington, May 1 —(AP)— The United States today put all of the Iron Curtain countries out of bounds for American travelers except for trips specifically approved by the state department.

To prevent "sneak visits" and protect venturesome individuals from risking travel to Communist-run areas, the department started stamping all new passports:

Restrict Passports

"This passport is not valid for travel to Albania, Burlgaria, China, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania or the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (Russia) unless specifically endorsed under authority of the department of state as being valid for such travel."

Travel to three of these—Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia and Hungary — already was prohibited and a system of military permits has kept Americans out of China since the Communists took over and started jailing some U.S. citizens already in the country.

The effect of the new order is to tighten restrictions on visits to Russia and the other satellite countries.

It went into force near the start of the tourist season which promises to break all records for foreign travel. In the first three months of this year, just short of 100,000 passports have been issued compared with 60,000 in the same months of 1951.

The jailing of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis in Czechoslovakia, businessman Robert Vogeler in Hungary and the imprisonment of 62 Americans in Communist China has dramatized the risks faced by Americans in venturing into Communist areas.

To visit any of the Iron Curtain countries, an American must have a visa, or a special permit, issued by the country to be visited. The state department has no direct authority over these.

Methodists Debate Temperance Issue At San Francisco

San Francisco, May 1 —(AP)— Impassioned debate on a motion requiring official board members of local churches to abstain from drinking alcoholic liquors was squelched today as the Methodist general conference voted to refer the question to committee.

Indignant objections that "Methodism has been silent too long on the issue of drinking and must put its house in order," were swept aside when the motion by Chester Smith, lay delegate, of Peekskill, N.Y., was sent to the committee on temperance.

Some observers said reference to committee was tantamount to killing the motion. The question arose during debate on a plan to reorganize the local church.

Robert Blue, former Iowa governor, of Eagle Grove, Ia., said in support of the motion:

"There is an opportunity here for great moral leadership at this general conference."

OPS UNCERTAIN ABOUT POTATOES; EXPECTS CHANGE

Washington, May 1 —(AP)— The Office of Price Stabilization said today that potato supplies, now short in many areas, should begin improving by the first of June with the new crop moving to market in volume.

It said the shortage may get worse before then. The quantity of new potatoes and the speed with which they are marketed will determine the length of the critical supply period, OPS said.

The agency issued a bulletin, "The Facts About Potatoes."

OPS said the shortage is due to growers cutting their 1951 potato acreage after potato price supports ended. On top of that, bad weather cut the size and quality of the crop in some areas.

O.K. Honorable Discharges For 2 Who Wouldn't Fly

San Antonio, Tex., May 1 — (AP) — Honorable discharges have been recommended for two of the six officers of Randolph air force base recently charged in court martial proceedings for refusing to fly.

Four other Randolph flyers still face court martial charges. Two of them have been transferred from here on "temporary duty," a third has been granted an "indefinite" emergency furlough and a fourth, like the others, has been placed on non-flying status.

First Lts. James G. Bristol, a pilot, and Edwin L. Cox, a bombardier, are to be discharged from the air force if the recommendations from Randolph are followed.

Lt. Bill Adams, public information officer at Randolph, said, that the recommendation from Randolph is now in the hands of crew training air force headquarters, also at Randolph. From there it is to be forwarded to air training command headquarters, Scott A. F. B., Ill. From there it goes to U.S.A.F. headquarters at Washington and is then scheduled for final review by the secretary of the air force, Lt. Adams said.

Bristol, who lives in San Antonio with his wife and five children, declined to fly after declaring that it was making a "nervous wreck" out of his wife. Her first husband was killed in World War II in an airplane accident. Cox, 35, of St. Louis, is married and has one child.

Bristol, a pilot instructor during the war, has since served as an enlisted man. Cox was recalled to duty last Sept. 15 from an enlisted status.

VICTORY FOR TAFT?

Indianapolis, May 1 —(AP)— The Indiana Republican committee formally approved today advancing the state nominating convention from July 3 to June 7. The move was interpreted as a victory for backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The official reason given for the change was that a national committee rule requires state conventions to be held at least 30 days before the national convention, which will open July 7 at Chicago.

LWV Hears Candidates Strike At Corruption

Cincinnati, May 1 —(AP)— Democratic presidential candidates tonight proposed an "inspector general" and a bipartisan commission to clean up government corruption. Republicans said a GOP election victory would do the job.

Three Democratic and two Republican aspirants took part personally in a radio-television clinic conducted by the League of Women Voters to find out what the candidates think about major issues.

They were asked questions prepared in advance by the league. Their answers, likewise, were submitted before the radio-television program began.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was represented by Paul G. Hoffman, former economic cooperation administrator, who said he hadn't consulted the general about the answers he gave to questions.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who today fell behind Eisenhower in the number of GOP presidential nominating delegates favorable to him, wasn't present or represented. The show was staged in Taft auditorium, named for his father.

Taft, busy campaigning in northern Ohio, was denied the right to be represented by another. League officials ruled that such a stand-in could speak only for a candidate outside the country.

Personally present to show their political wares were Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and W. Averell Harriman of New York, the mutual security administrator, all Democratic candidates.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, campaigning in Florida, wasn't on hand or represented.

Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold E. Sstassen of Minnesota were the Republican candidates who appeared.

Harriman came up with the proposal in a prepared statement for congress to create a federal "inspector general" with broad investigatory powers—including access to income tax returns—to clean up corruption.

Kerr proposed a bipartisan commission for the same purpose, with its rulings subject to court appeals.

Hoffman said Eisenhower always had insisted upon and obtained "total integrity" from his associates. He said that was what the nation would get if it elected the general as president.

Warren told the women voters that the Truman administration isn't even "indignant" about scandals in Washington. He said only a Republican victory in November would solve this problem.

No Comment, Says Steel Boss Murray

Washington, May 1 —(AP) — President Truman tonight asked Philip Murray, head of the CIO steelworkers, to call off the steel strike.

Murray, in Pittsburgh, said he had not yet received the President's request, made in a telegram, and would have no comment until he got it.

Truman appealed to the steelworkers, and also to the heads of six big steel companies, as loyal Americans "to do everything you can" to restore production of the steel "we must have for our national safety."

There was no immediate comment from industry heads.

The president also invited Murray and the heads of six steel companies to meet with him at 10 o'clock Saturday morning to confer on the issues involved in an effort to reach an immediate settlement.

In making his request the president told Murray and the steel heads the United States Court of Appeals has granted an order halting the district court order which had blocked the operation of the steel mills by the government.

Now In Charge—Truman

"Thus the government is now in a position to continue the operation of the steel mills in the national interest," Truman said.

The Court of Appeals here, by a split 5 to 4 vote, refused today to forbid the government to raise wages in the industry.

However, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who is in control of the industry for the government, said no immediate wage boost was planned.

Late in the day, President Truman told his news conference he has no ambition to be a dictator and will abide by any supreme court decision on his seizure of the multi-billion-dollar steel industry.

The president said he will take every possible action to get the steel strike settled, but gave no clue of what steps he might have in mind.

All he wants, he said, is to keep steel production flowing.

Earlier, in a day of multiple developments bearing on the great controversy, there had been speculation that Truman might issue a back-to-work call now that the steel mills are once more back under government control.

No Comment

But the president was silent on that subject.

In a rapid-fire sequence of events:

1. Sawyer told a news conference immediately following a White House talk with President Truman that "the important thing" now is for the nation's steel companies and CIO President Philip Murray's United Steel Workers to get together and reach an agreement.

2. John A. Stephens, chief industry negotiators, declined to comment immediately on Sawyer's invitation for new company-union peace talks.

"We'll have to see where we stand," Stephens said.

Union leaders also declined comment.

3. Within 30 minutes after Sawyer promised not to take "abrupt" action on hiking wages, the Court of Appeals refused to grant an industry plea for an order barring the government from raising wages while the government holds the seized mills.

Same Division

The court split on the issue with the same lineup which voted yesterday to put the steel mills back into government possession pending an appeal of the whole tangled case to the Supreme Court.

The five who voted against barring a wage increase were Judges E. Barrett Prettyman, Henry W. Edgerton, Charles Fahy, David L. Bazelon and George G. Washington.

Judge Stephens said in reading the dissenting opinion that if the government continued to run the mills, as provided in last night's ruling by the nine-man court, then there should be a ban on raising wages or otherwise changing the terms of employment.

Industry's Plea

Industry lawyers pleaded that the steel companies would have "no remedy" and would be "helpless" if the government went ahead and raised wages pending the outcome of an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The government has until 2:30 p.m. (CST), Friday to file briefs with the Supreme Court arguing the legality of Truman's seizure order—the order Judge Pine denounced on Tuesday as illegal and as a violation of the constitution. Truman seized the mills to head off a strike and when Pine issued his ruling the CIO Steelworkers promptly went on a nation-wide strike.

OUR MUSICAL GUESTS

Jacksonville this week end might be called "The City Of Harmony." The presence of about 2,000 high school musicians will back up such a melodic slogan. Beginning Friday morning hundreds of contestants in Illinois High School Class B music events will compete for coveted honors, while many instructors and parents anxiously await the outcome of the contests. Saturday morning will bring another major influx of students and more contests at MacMurray College, headquarters for the state meet.

The scope of the event is revealed by the fact that it will attract young people from 99 high schools—that the meet is organized into 38 divisions, with 735 separate entries, including individuals and organizations.

No doubt Jacksonville's facilities for the entertainment of visitors will be taxed during these two busy, interesting days, when Illinois high schools send their talented representatives into our midst. Several civic groups have cooperated to obtain lodging for the musical legions during their stay.

There will not be much time for newspaper reading by the boys and girls who visit us this week end—their minds will be centered on the business at hand. But perhaps a copy of this editorial will come to their attention later, or a relative or teacher will take a Journal Courier home and see what we are driving at.

Within a year or two these boys and girls who visit Jacksonville so hastily Friday and Saturday will be of college age. Why not come back to Jacksonville?

This city has several institutions of higher learning. For more than 125 years Jacksonville has been a center of education and culture. Jacksonville likes high school and college students, appreciates their ambitions, and has seen generation after generation of young men and women study diligently four years, then go out into the world to make their contributions to society.

It may be a little crowded here the rest of the week. Two thousand or more visitors are a lot of company. Everybody's glad to have them. Most of the time things are more leisurely — the city has been termed "not to large and not too small," an ideal location for colleges. It is highly probable that many young men and women visitors here this week will return, not to win acclaim in a special event, but to continue their general education.

FIRST TO TRY

A glimpse of the future is provided by announcement of the Walter Kidde Company, a New Jersey corporation, that it will construct the first privately financed laboratory for the development of atomic power. Its primary project will be the construction of a low-cost nuclear reactor for production of power for commercial and industrial use.

Aside from military applications, atomic energy has been identified chiefly with medical research. Development of nuclear reactors for power has emphasized submarines and fighting aircraft. The precarious state of the world has made this inevitable.

But the Atomic Energy Commission has been quietly pressing for a start on the development of the aspect of atomic energy which holds the greatest promise of food for mankind, power.

Last year it set up an industrial power branch to stimulate industrialists to risk capital in nuclear reactor research. The problem, as pointed out by Dr. Karl Cohen, who will head the Kidde project, "is not whether we can do it, but how soon we can make it economical."

SOME MEMORIES OF JAPAN

Washington —(AP)— So Japan is free. How will it be from now on between us?

I wasn't one of those who fought their way to Japan, island by island, stepping stones of bitterness.

All my memories of Japan are pleasant.

I invaded it in comfort in the late summer of 1945. It was the dryest-footed amphibious landing ever made. I was with a bunch of Okinawa-trained Marines assigned to take an island in Tokyo Bay.

The Japanese had already waved the white flag, but there were three old gun positions on this island. And somebody decided that the island ought to be secured against the possibility that the Japs might pull a trick and try to sink the U. S. Navy.

"This is Japan?" said the Marine next to me as we waded ashore.

I guess it was quite a letdown for a man who'd fought on Okinawa.

Well, we went into Yokohama, Tokyo and looked down in awe from the turrets of the Battleship Missouri as Gen. Douglas MacArthur signed the surrender terms.

The Japanese were furtive, frightened, or overbearingly polite then. They weren't sure what their conquerors might do.

I went to Japan in 1950 shortly after the outbreak of the Korea war. The Japanese were as polite as ever but no longer fightened. They had learned how to deal with our occupation forces—patiently.

There had been considerable bribery-through-entertainment of Americans by highly placed Japanese. There had been considerable needless throwing-around-of-weight by a number of Americans, suddenly eating higher on the hog than they ever had at home.

But, by and large, it must have been one of the lightest military occupations in history. The Japanese accepted it with such grace and dignity there really wasn't much to make an issue over. They never lost their polite smile.

But Japan will seem strange now to one who never knew her before the last war. The subtle change of power will be there. The little giant is free, loose in a wide wor'd again, for better or for worse.

All that will be the same will be the smile. In Japan that never changes.

Hollywood —(NEA)— Guys and Dolls: Skip those reports of a popping-hot feud between two of Hollywood's foremost sweater girls—Terry Moore and Marilyn Monroe. At least there's no hostility on Terry's side.

Shapely Terry says the rumors of all-out war started when she snagged the role of a busting-with-health sweater girl away from Marilyn in "Come Back, Little Sheba," and explains:

"My own agent was trying to sell Marilyn for the part. I didn't like it one bit and I knew I was absolutely right for the role. So I marched right down to Paramount's casting office myself, without my agent, and convinced them I was the actress to play the part."

Terry on her torrid love scenes with Richard Jaeckel in the picture: "Very exciting but innocent as two puppy dogs. One cutter saw the scenes and said he couldn't sleep all night."

The movie-stars-are-normal-people bunk Hollywood is trying to sell as part of its dignity campaign has veteran Director William Wellman wincing.

A director since 1920, he's yelling:

"Hollywood is stifling temperament—and it's the worst mistake the studios ever made. Temperament makes a personality. I once directed Clara Bow. She was mad and crazy but WHAT a personality!

"Show me a temperamental star and I'll show you a great personality—and great boxoffice. Movie stardom isn't acting ability—it's personality and temperament."

DAY HAS NO KICKS

Meet a doll with no kicks—perky Doris Day.

Leaping from a straight dramatic role like Mrs. Grover Cleveland Alexander in "The Winning Team" to the singing, dancing star of the new Warner tunefilm, "April in Paris," is the kind of a career leap Doris likes.

"A complete change is wonderful for me," she confided. "I love it. That's why I'm getting such a kick out of my new radio show, too. It's something I haven't done since I was with Bob Hope. People give me the lifted eyebrow routine when I tell them I've been at Warner Bros. for five years without a single suspension or a front office fight.

"But why should I fight? Everything has been good for me. I have no kicks."

Doris is still ducking live radio, with her contract specifying an on-tape show. She wants perfection—and no mike jitters.

The umpire called a strike-out on Jim Davis as a leading man in Bette Davis' "Winter Meeting," but TV film producers are giving him a second chance on Fireside Theater and other channel movies.

It's a great opportunity for Jim, who's been playing heavies on the screen and recently menaced John Agar in Republic's "Minnesota."

"People walk up to me everywhere and tell me they've seen me on TV," he said. "It's an audience of 20 million and that's a heck of an audience."

Looking back on his unlucky first big movie break:

"I was blamed for everything. It wasn't as if the role had been handed to me. I made two tests for it. But when we shot the picture the director held me back. My love scenes with Bette came out brotherly."

PHYLLIS IN "DANGER"

Phyllis Thaxter may have succeeded Myrna Loy as the screen's perfect wife, but the casting rut hasn't trapped her yet.

"Thee studio wanted me to dye my gray 'air. I said, 'What about Pinza?' The studio thought it ovair and said: 'Claude, you are right. You will be thee French Pinza.'"

It's Dauphin's singing debut, he confesses, but says:

"I'm not really a singair, but I always say 'Yes' when they ask me to do somezeeng in a picture."

In his film deput in "Deported," he played an Italian detective speaking English with a French accent.

Attacks of Gout Usually Follow Meals Which Contain Purines

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent, Mrs. S., writes "I am a woman, 49 years old, and have had periodic attacks of gout in the large toe joint for the past seven years . . . please tell me more about this."

Gout is an extraordinarily interesting disease, though not an extremely common one. Among other things, it is said that gout is one of the most painful of all human disorders, and those who have had an attack will certainly agree as will many doctors who have observed acute attacks.

The cause of gout is not known, although there are several curious things about it which one would think would give a clue. It is principally a disease of men, and Mrs. S. is one of the few unfortunate women who have developed gout.

A typical attack is likely to start with terrific pain at the base of one of the big toes. This pain is sharp and frequently awakens the victim from a sound sleep in the middle of the night. The joint is extremely tender—so much so that even the weight of the bed clothes may be too much to bear.

Overindulgence in food often seems to bring on an attack. Many patients with gout report an unusually rich or large meal before the first attack, such as a steak dinner or a large amount of wine or other alcoholic beverage.

Gout is associated with certain foods which contain substances called purines. Liver, sweetbreads, kidney, squab, and calf's tongue are especially rich in purines. Other foods like sausage, beef, pork, veal, and several kinds of fish also have a lot of purines and are not safe for the sufferer from gout.

By proper knowledge of diet and sometimes by the addition of one or two drugs, it is often possible to prevent attacks of acute gout or at least to make them come less often. In those who have had acute gout for years, a chronic form often appears which doctors now call gouty artiritis.

Crystals Form

In this phase of gout, crystal-like substances are deposited in or near the joints. These cannot be dissolved, but are not very painful between acute attacks However, these crystals, called urates, can become so numerous that they are disfiguring, some reaching the size of hen's eggs or even larger.

Time-honored treatment by diet and certain drugs is useful both in acute attacks and in cutting down the number and frequency of attacks. Cortisone and ACTH, if given at the right time, appear to halt an attack, but when they are stopped the attack generally comes on later.

You're a Good Hostess if You Say 'Yes' to These Questions

How good a hostess are you? It's a smart idea to check up on yourself once in a while, especially if you seem to get more than your share of refusals when you invite people to your house.

If you find yourself dreading even the simplest kind of entertainment as a job to be done, rather than a pleasant time to be anticipated, then it is time to take a look at yourself.

Well how about it? When you phone to invite the Smiths to dinner, do you make the invitation sound special and cordial and show by your manner that you expect them to WANT to come? Or do you make the invitation sound like duty by some lame apology about meaning to have had them over for ages, or by belittling the invitation by saying: "It's not going to be anything special?"

Are you always ready to welcome your guests when they arrive on time? Or does the doorbell often find you still with your make-up off, or busy in the kitchen, or rushing around in a last minute scramble to do odd jobs that should have been done that morning or even the day before?

SMALL TALK PUTS GUESTS AT EASE

Have you enough small talk on tap to make the first few minutes after your guests' arrive seem relaxed and comfortable? Or do you just hope that the guests will take over and break the ice themselves?

Can you look after the comfort of guests in a way that seems casual and easy? Or do you flutter around giving the impression that you're afraid nobody is having a good time and that this person or that one must be uncomfortable?

At moments of arrival and leave-taking do you concentrate entirely on the guests you are greeting or bidding goodbye, so that they have the pleasant feeling that they are most important to you? Do you try to make them feel that you were really delighted they could come and thoroughly enjoyed having them with you? Or do you just give part of your attention to arriving and departing guests, letting the rest of your mind worry about trifles?

Your answers to questions in each situation will reveal whether or not you are as good a hostess as you would like to be.

Wiley 'Pulls a Vandenberg' By Supporting Foreign Policy

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA) — Biggest news on the U. S. foreign policy front is that Republican Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin is about to pull a Vandenberg.

The Wisconsin senator, in a short speech prepared for delivery on the floor of the Senate declared that the U. S. bi-partisan foreign policy has been fundamentally sound and worthy of Republican support.

In so saying, Senator Wiley is stepping into the shoes of the late Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, the Republican foreign policy leader whose recently published memoirs have revealed how he changed from an extreme isolationist to a believer in international co-operation.

The importance of Senator Wiley's declaration is that if the Republicans win the presidential election and majority control of the Senate this November, he will become chairman of the powerful Senate Foreign Relations Committee. He is now the ranking Republican member of that committee.

Senator Wiley's new statement on the need for bi-partisan foreign policy will be made to back up and stand by his own speech on "A Dynamic Foreign Policy for a Dynamic Age," made before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington last week.

This speech was received more or less apathetically by the editors. At one point in the speech, Senator Wiley declared, "I, for one, have always held to the belief that the Republican Party should be as willing and eager to praise constructive achievements as it should be to point out short-comings."

When his audience received this in stony silence, Senator Wiley departed from his text and asked, "What's the matter with you Democrats out there? Why don't you applaud that?" All he got was a mild laugh.

Though the Wiley speech was received with some doubts, disbelief and lack of enthusiasm by his immediate audience in Washington, it met with violent reactions in the middle west and on Capitol Hill.

The Milwaukee Journal and the Madison, Wis., Capital-Times praised Senator Wiley in glowing editorials for speaking with the voice of a statesman. Up to this time these papers had been only lukewarm to Wiley. There had been general doubt expressed as to the senator's ability to carry off the assignment as Foreign Relations chairman.

The Chicago Tribune, on the other hand, criticized the Wiley speech to the editors as a "me-too" declaration. It accused Senator Wiley of playing footsie with Secretary Acheson.

In the words of Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, the Tribune editorial implied, "that the State Department in general and the Secretary of State in particular set out to seduce my colleague, the senior senator from Wisconsin..... and that the seduction was successful."

They Should Have Read The Records

Senator Cain's remarks were made in the course of nearly an hour's debate on the Senate floor, several days after Senator Wiley spoke to the editors. Senator Wiley himself was not there, being in Foreign Relations Committee meeting on the foreign aid bill. Senator Cain had, however, informed Senator Wiley in advance that he was going to defend his reputation.

With Senators Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, and Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, Senator Cain tried to make a case that Senator Wiley had been misquoted by the press. Then they cited earlier speeches by Senator Wiley to show that he had in the past been a consistent and violent critic of U. S. foreign policy under Democratic control.

All this rhubarb and hassel might easily have been avoided if the Republican Senator had read their Congressional Record. On Monday, April 21, pages A 2504-5-and-6, the full text of Senator Wiley's speech to the editors had been published.

Senator Wiley had obviously thought it was a good speech for he himself had asked that it be inserted in the Record, instead of having one of his colleagues ask with glowing tribute that the text be reprinted.

Senator Wiley had begun his speech with, "It is a genuine privilege to address you men and women of the Fourth Estate and to appear on the same platform with the able and distinguished Secretary of State."

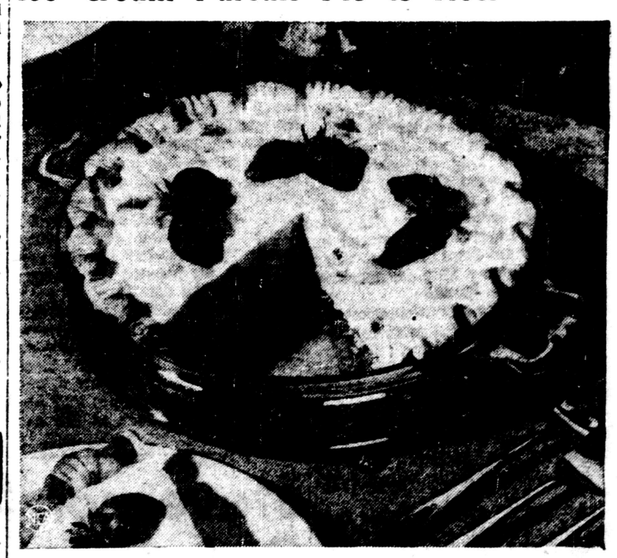

Any tribute from a Republican to Secretary Acheson should have been ample warning of what was to follow. To Senators Cain, Hickenlooper, Mundt and Bridges, who have followed the McCarthy line pretty consistently, it must have been gall and wormwood.

Senator Wiley went on to praise the achievements of U. S. foreign policy—arms aid, the Marshall plan, NATO, Point Four, the UN policy in Asia and accomplishments in Korea.

Senator Wiley now says there is nothing in his speech he wants to change. He says his only regret is that his well-meaning friends hadn't read it.

Ice Cream Parfait Pie Is New

BIG NEWS is this ice cream parfait pie. It is as simple to make as it is exciting to eat.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

There is something new in the cooking world! It's a chiffon-like pie made by stirring ice cream into hot dissolved fruit flavored gelatin, then turning it into a baked pie crust. Fantastic? Nope, just seems too good to be true. BUT it is true.

Ruth Andre thought it up. She is director of the Pillsbury Home Service Center. Bursting with pride, she reminds us that speed of preparation is part of the surprise.

"Bake a flakey pie crust, using milk, whenever convenient. Then, a short time before dinner, prepare the parfait filling. Pour into the pie shell and let it stand in refrigerator for 20 minutes to a half hour," she says.

The variety of flavors of ice cream and fruit flavored gelatin is countless. And now with fresh berries and fruit coming along, you have even more colors and flavors for these spectacular new parfait pies.

Pineapple-Strawberry Parfait Pie (Makes 9-inch Pie)

Pastry: One cup sifted all-purpose flour (if you use self-rising flour, omit salt), ½ teaspoon salt, 1/3 cup shortening, 2 to 3 tablespoons cold milk.

Sift flour and salt together. Cut in shortening until particles are the size of small peas. Sprinkle milk over mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball. Roll out on floured board or pastry cloth to an 11-inch circle. Fit loosely into 9-inch pie pan. Gently pat out air pockets. Fold edge to form standing rim; flute. Prick crust with fork. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool.

Pineapple-Strawberry Filling

One package lemon-flavored gelatin, 1½ cups hot pineapple juice and water, 1 pint strawberry ice cream, 1 cup drained canned crushed pineapple.

Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid in two-quart saucepan. Add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring until melted. Then chill until thickened, but not set (25 to 30 minutes). Fold in drained pineapple. Turn into cooled baked pie shell. Chill until firm (15 to 20 minutes). Garnish with additional fruit, if desired.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, scrambled eggs with fried tomato rings, enriched toast, butter or fortified margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Toasted bacon and peanut butter sandwiches, cabbage, green pepper and orange salad, sour cream dressing, ready-mix chocolate cup cakes, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled salmon steaks, lemon and parsley butter, new potatoes, canned green beans, enriched rolls, butter or fortified margarine, mixed green salad, French dressing, pineapple-strawberry parfait pie, coffee, milk.

School Building Projects Here Going Smoothly

J. Harry Dowland, chairman of the building committee of the Jacksonville board of education, said Thursday that "we expect to complete the new high school gymnasium sometime next fall. The high school basketball team almost certainly will be playing its home games in the new structure."

He added that the work on the new Lincoln Elementary school on Independence avenue has commenced after poor winter weather ended recently. Dowland said the new school "probably will be ready for occupancy for the second term next year."

Two new additions, allowing increased classroom facilities at Jefferson and Franklin schools, "may be finished before the end of the present school year." In any case, he added, they will be completed before the opening of the new school year next September.

Dowland said he was of the opinion that the present national steel crisis, even should it last indefinitely, "is not likely to affect the construction of the gym." Structural steel necessary to complete the building is scheduled to arrive sometime in June, he said.

Auto Kills Deer In Cass County

Virginia, Ill—Deer may roam leisurely and at will throughout national and state parks, with motorists constantly on the lookout to catch a glimpse of the shy anmals, but motorists seldom expect to see a deer in Cass county—let alone hit one on the highways here.

However, four women from Virginia, traveling toward Beardstown Monday night, suddenly came upon two deer near Bluff Springs and before their car could be brought to a stop, the automobile had struck the doe, breaking her leg and injuring her back.

The other deer, a buck, just ahead of the doe, crossed the highway safely after emerging from the timber near the Gus Carls farm.

Marie Moore of Virginia who was driving Glenn Colburn's car, and Mrs. Colburn, one of the passengers in the car, immediately telephoned Cass county sheriff Nick Long and told him about the injured deer. He notified game warden Red Elmore who killed the animal.

This is the second deer to be killed in Cass county, on highways, in the past two years.

Eisenhower And Kefauver Choice Of College Girls

MacMurray students climaxed two weeks of vigorous political campaigning Wednesday evening when nomination conventions reached a unanimous decision. On the Republican ticket the candidates are Gen. Roosevelt, Jr., of New York for president and vice president.

The activities opened with the registration of all students according to home states and political preference on April 15. Campaign managers were chosen for the various clubs representing Eisenhower, Taft, Kefauver and Stevenson. Speeches for the candidates were given in a study assembly to open the campaign.

Convention activities started Tuesday with the members of both parties meeting for keynote addresses and reading of party platforms. Georgia Halliburton of Wahoo, Nebr., was chairman of the Republican convention. Sue Schulze of Des Plaines, Ill., led the Democrats.

Smiling maidens reflect the warm friendliness of the islands.

MAY DAY in some lands is a time for military parades with tanks, guns and soldiers, but in peaceful Hawaii it is a day given over to friendship and love. The hospitable Hawaiians call it "Lei Day," in honor of the garlands of flowers which decorate the isles. "Lei Day" is the biggest holiday of the spring. The islanders leave offices and homes to go to green parks for pageants, songs, dances and floral displays. On school playgrounds, the children present mounds of petals to young queens and their princesses. On the streets everyone wears a flower necklace and in village squares hundreds of garlands are hung in rows for judging in the biggest lei contests of the year. When it comes to hospitality, Hawaiians like to "say it with flowers."

All U.S. Armed Forces Active In Atom Warfare

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Yucca Flat Atomic Test Site, Nev. —(NEA)—A rapidly expanding nucleus of officers and GIs experienced in handling and maneuvering with live atomic weapons now exists in America's military machine.

This valuable know-how could mean the difference between victory and defeat for the U.S., in case of an all-out atomic war with Russia.

With Marine Corps participation in a live A-bomb detonation, just after the big blast which was shown to the public, all U.S. forces are actively in atomic warfare.

The 2100 Marines and more than 2500 Army troops involved in blasts bring the approximate total of U.S. military personnel who have taken part in live A-bomb tests up to 10,000. The Air Force, which dropped the first bombs in combat, and the Navy, as a result of the Bikini tests, account for the rest.

Almost unmentioned, because its part of the test was handled so effortlessly, was the Air Force's amazing contribution. The job the Atomic Energy Commission asked Maj. Gen. John S. Mills, boss of the USAF Special Weapons Command, to do was incredible.

• • •

Some time last February, when plans for the public test were completed, the AEC told Mills that at 9:30 a.m. sharp, on Tuesday, April 22, he should arrange to have exploded an atomic bomb at a specific place in the air which was to be 3500 feet above a spot on Yucca Flat. To help the bombardier, "Ground Zero" would be marked by intersecting bulldozer tracks.

The AEC, a couple of weeks before it happened, announced to the whole world what was going to take place at that tiny spot, not bothering to worry that Mills might not produce.

The confident nonchalance with which the Air Force drops live A-bombs is due in great part to the efforts of Col. Osmond J. Ritland, who serves under Mills as commander of the test group which handles such projects. Mills' command embraces all Air Force atomic weapons development and testing, including such things as guided missiles with atomic warheads.

Ritland's policy is to spread actual drop assignments among as many different crews as possible. He reports that the job has now become very routine among his men. Most of the crews which he has trained, totaling many hundreds of men, are sent to the Strategic Air Command where they add their experience to the ready force maintained by SAC.

• • •

Ritland is also actively engaged in developing the use of A-bombs for almost every type of plane the Air Force flies. He reports good progress in the carrying of A-bombs by the jet fighter-bomber aircraft. Pilots with this experience are graduating to units of the Tactical Air Command.

Although the Army's part in the April 22nd test provided excellent experience for the troops, it pointed up just how much ground forces have yet to learn about the tactical use of atomic weapons.

Later it was admitted that the 3500-foot height of the blast was probably too high for best tactical results. That height was set for AEC test purposes, not for the Army.

• • •

Other official Army observers said, after the blast, that it showed that probably the best tactical use of atomic bombs would be against air fields and not against troops.

These official Army statements have a bearing on the atomic artillery shell which the Army is supposed to have. If the Army does have a shell casing for a nuclear explosive, and the cannon to fire that shell, there remain some problems. Like how big an explosive force to put in the shell, where in the air to have it go off, how far into enemy territory to hurl it, and against what targets it should be used.

The net result of the test as far as the Army is concerned was discouraging, according to a consensus of official observers. It erased some hopes that atomic weapons would revolutionize ground action.

Marine Corps experts, on the other hand, believe their test will prove more encouraging as an aid to their basic mission, taking beach heads. They hope to show that one or more atomic bombs dropped on an invasion point is the ideal way to neutralize a beach before invasion.

Wesleyan Scores 11-1 CCI Win Over Blueboys

A seven-run eighth inning turned a tight baseball game into a runaway and the Illinois Wesleyan Titans racked Illinois college 11-1 in a Little Nine combat here yesterday afternoon.

The Blueboys, fresh from a 7-1 league victory over Carthage this week, held the strong Titan team in check for the first seven innings. The visitors held a slender 3-1 lead and it looked as if the Hilltoppers were getting to Wesleyan twirler Mel Ferrera.

But Gene Callahan, starting Blueboy pitcher, weakened in the eighth. Wesleyan shoved five runs across the platter on four walks, an error and two hits, then scored two more before reliefer Walt Lubes could put out the fire.

Lubes blanked Wesleyan in the eighth inning. Third baseman Joe Fitzgerald twirled in the ninth and allowed the eleventh run in Longenfeld's long triple to left.

Dale Cain smashed a home run in the sixth inning to account for the single Illinois college run.

Callahan pitched good ball for Coach Brooks' club for the first seven innings. The slim right hander allowed only three hits until he tired.

Illinois college is host to Millikin in another league contest Saturday afternoon. Game time is 2 p.m.

Gift Silver Withdraws From Kentucky Derby

By John Chandler

Louisville, Ky., May 1—(AP)—Gift Silver, which was born out of formal equine wedlock and became a Kentucky Derby eligible, had to step out of the racing classic today.

The little horse, nominated for Saturday's $100,000 event despite his lack of experience in any race, has a cut on his right foreleg which has not healed sufficiently.

That was the explanation given by the owners, Odie Newell, an Ottumwa, Ia., railroad engineer and his wife, who fed Gift Silver by bottle after the colt's mother died.

The withdrawal of Gift Silver sent a sigh of relief through some 16 owners and trainers planning to run their expensive thoroughbreds in the Derby.

Gift Silver collided with Essie M, a filly, in a workout this morning. This incident so alarmed the other horsemen that they immediately began suggesting Gift Silver's removal.

They were fearful that the horse's inexperience might disrupt the running of the Derby.

Mrs. Newell, who broke into tears after the accident, joined her husband in saying after the withdrawal:

"This is not the end. We'll be back to race in a Derby some day."

Churchill Downs stewards earlier had decided that Warren Perez, the 17-year-old Louisville high school student originally scheduled to ride Gift Silver, was too inexperienced to pilot the horse among the blueblood of turfdom on Saturday. Perez was astride Gift Silver when the collision occurred.

Cubs Spank Bums 7-2, Gain Lead In National League

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs, 1951 tail-enders, nearly reached the top of the National league today, with a 7-2 spanking of first place Brooklyn as Johnny Klippstein weathered late-inning pressure to win his first start of the season.

Although a half game ahead of the Dodgers on a won-lost basis, the Cubs still trail second on a percentage basis .727 to .714. Brooklyn has an 8-3 record and the Cubs 10-4.

A Ladies' Day throng of 25,588 saw big Hank Sauer, the league's RBI leader, put the skids under Dodger starter Ralph Branca with a three-run double in the very first inning. Sauer now has 20 RBI's for the season.

Baseball Scout Ernie Johnson Dies At 64

Monrovia, Calif., May 1—(AP)—Baseball scout Ernie Johnson, who was credited with sending to the big leagues such stars as Ted Williams, Dom DiMaggio, Johnny Pesky, Bobby Doerr and others of Boston Red Sox fame, died at Monrovia sanitarium today.

Johnson, 64, of Santa Ana, had been suffering from bronchial asthma.

He was a Red Sox scout for many years and a former player in the majors himself.

Johnson, who commanded the then unheard of salary in the Pacific Coast League of $300 a month and the first one to get that much money from the Los Angeles club around 1912-13, later played in the majors with the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees.

Surviving are his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Named Hockey's Most Valuable

Montreal, May 1 —(AP)— Gordie Howe, star forward of the National hockey league champion Detroit Red Wings, was named today as the most valuable player in the league for the 1951-'52 season.

Howe, 24, was awarded the coveted Hart trophy which is awarded annually to "the player adjudged to be most valuable to his team." Besides the trophy Howe will receive a $1,000 check from the league and $1,000 from his club.

The lanky star, whose career and life almost ended a few years ago when he was severely injured in a playoff game, polled 62 out of a possible 90 points in winning the trophy for the first time.

Howe received nine first place nominations from the panel of 18 sportswriters and sportscasters — three from each N.H.L. city. The points were awarded on a five for first choice, three for second and one for third.

Bob Feller of the Cleveland Indians holds a lifetime edge over every American League club except the Yankees. He's beaten them 28 times, lost 33.

Browns Advance In American With 6-1 Win Over Bosox

Boston, May 1—(AP)—Righthander Duane Pillette threw a five-hitter against the Boston Red Sox and batted in three runs today to give the St. Louis Browns a 6-1 victory that moved them to within a game of the American league's top-place.

Pillette held the Red Sox, playing without Ted Williams, scoreless until the eighth inning when a walk to Gene Stephens, Junior Stephens' single to left and Walt Dropo's grounder provided the lone Boston run.

The surprising Browns, who totaled 10 hits off three Red Sox hurlers, knicked starter Walt Masterson for single tallies in the second and fourth innings and then shelled him out of action with a three-run explosion in the fifth.

Reds Take 7-6 Win From Braves

Cincinnati, May 1—(AP)—Herman Wehmeier had to have help in the ninth inning for the second straight time and Frank Smith again put out the fire as the Cincinnati Reds took a 7 to 6 victory over the Boston Braves today.

Wehmeier, who had to be pulled out of a game in the ninth Saturday when he walked four men, yielded doubles to Sam Jethroe and Earl Torgeson with two out in the ninth today.

Torgeson represented the tying run when Smith came in to force Sid Gordon to fly out and give Wehmeier his third straight pitching triumph.

Gives Recording To Hall Of Fame

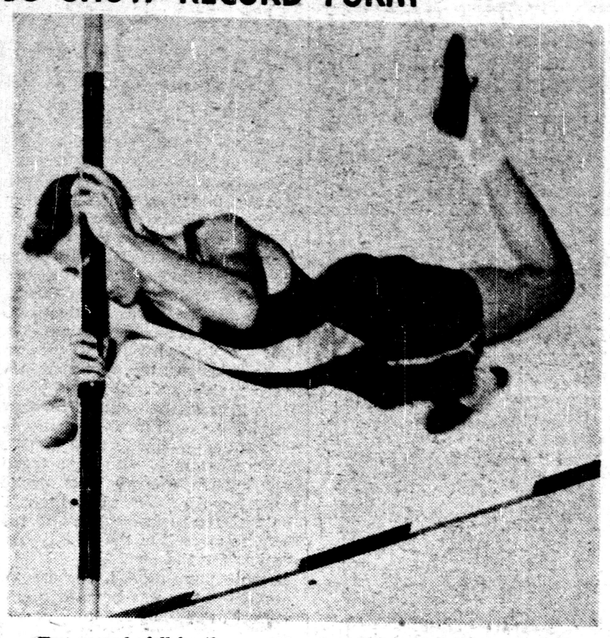

Cooperstown, N.Y., May 1—(AP)—Mrs. Grover Cleveland Alexander presented to the baseball Hall of Fame today a recording describing the game in which her late husband won the 1926 World Series for the St. Louis Cardinals.

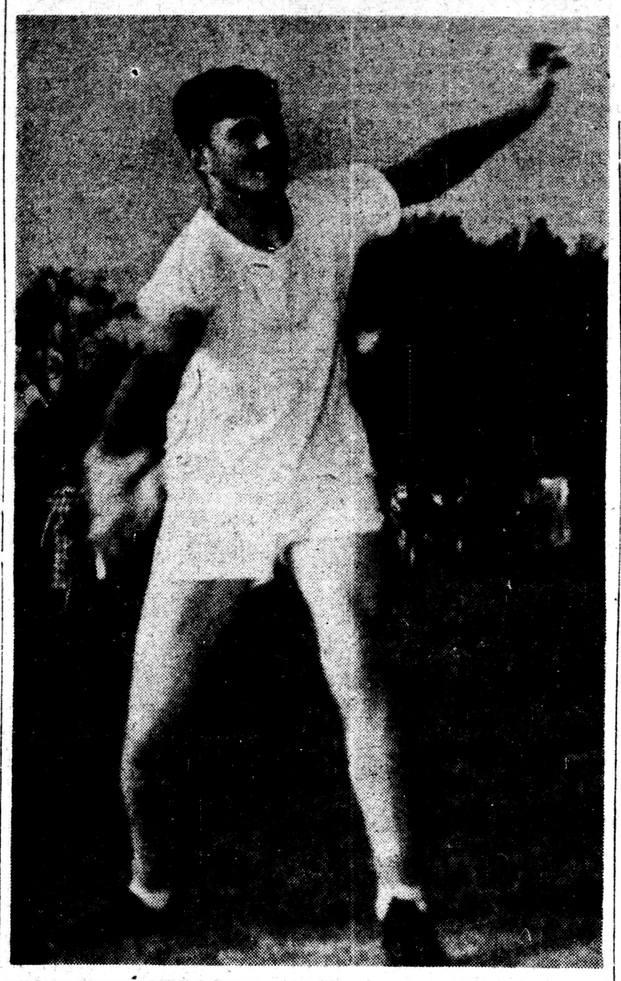

The recording was made from Graham McNamee's original broadcast of the seventh game between the Cardinals and the New York Yankees. The National League pitcher won that game and the championship by striking out Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees with the bases loaded.

Prior to his entry into horse racing in 1908, trainer Roy Waldron was a bat boy for the St. Louis Browns.

TIGER, CRIMSON THINCLADS SHOW RECORD FORM

Two records fell by the wayside when ISD and Jacksonville high got together in a track meet at the west end Wednesday afternoon.

In the picture above, Crimson Dick Barnes shows winning form as he soars over the bar. Barnes, a junior, vaulted 10-6¼ to establish a new school record.

At left, Tom Klbecka shows how he heaved the discus 130-5 to set a new mark in that field event for ISD.

Upper left, Bill VanSpankeren (nearest camera) is off to a good start in the low hurdles. Earl Harris of JHS is just starting to clear his first hurdle. VanSpankeren paced his Tiger cinder team to victory over both JHS and New Berlin.

IT'S NOT THE SEASHORE—Waters from streams fed by record winter snows surge through a street in Salt Lake City, Utah. Many dikes in Utah have been smashed by spring flood waters, the worst in the state's history.

Mr. Shortstop Is Happy

Marty Feels Like Rookie, Is Eager To Make Good

By Joe Reichler

New York, May 1—(AP)—"I haven't been this happy in three-four years. It's just like a great weight has been lifted off my mind."

Marty Marion, lean as always, sighed contentedly.

"I realize more than ever now that I made a wise decision when I passed up the other offers for the one made by the St. Louis Browns," continued the former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"We have a good, young hustling team. I'm happy to be part of it."

Thus the former "Mr. Shortstop" of the National League summed up his first two weeks in the American League following 11 brilliant years as a player and one as a non-playing manager with the Redbirds.

"I feel like a rookie in this league and I'm just as eager and anxious to make good," said Marion.

"I have an extra incentive to make good," he added. "First, I want to play a few years for Bill Veeck (Brown's owner). Second, I want to show certain people that I still can play in the big leagues. Even before I was fired as Cardinal manager, I was given my release as a player. When I asked why, I was told that I was through, washed up."

Last season Marion could not play at all. Two pieces of cartilage had to be cut from his knee. Today, Marion at 34 is the regular shortstop of the rejuvenated Browns and is being credited as the player most responsible for the team's early season success. He is the team's No. 1 hitter with a .340 average and has accepted every ball hit his way without a single miscue.

"Marion not only holds the infield together," praised ace pitcher Ned Garver, "but he has given every one of us pitchers more confidence."

Marion has a three year contract with the Browns as a player-coach. His salary is $35,000 per year if he plays a minimum of 75 games.

"All winter," Marion recalled, "I worked in a gym. I played basketball four days a week. I hunted, walked 10 to 15 miles a day. By February, the knee appeared sound and the back, which had bothered me since 1939, did not ache. When I arrived in the training camp I told Veeck I was going to be a player, not a coach. The first two days in camp were not so bad. But after that the knee and back hurt terribly. The adhesions had torn loose in the knee. The lumbar muscle in my back became very hard. I could hardly roll out of bed and I couldn't straighten out. I spent most of the time on the rubbing table with the Browns' trainer massaging me. I came mighty close to throwing in the towel.

"The pain finally left me. I feel fine now except that I cannot play both ends of doubleheaders."

Routt Socks St. James 15-12; Meets ISD Today

Springfield —(Special)— Coach Jim Smarjesse's Routt Rockets broke an eight game losing streak when they tripped St. James 15-12 in baseball here yesterday afternoon.

The Jacksonville club reared up and scored seven runs in the second inning to help salt away the victory. Big hit of this uprising was Jim Phalen's circuit clout with the bases loaded.

Routt picked up only two hits off St. James pitchers Ramirez and Doan but capitalized on five St. James errors.

Paul Lawless pitched all the way for the Rockets. He allowed nine hits.

The Rockets will host Illinois School for the Deaf at Illinois college field this afternoon. The PMBC conference game will start at about 3:30 p.m.

IT'S SATURDAY! WHEN JACKS MEET CARLINVILLE NINE

The Jacsonville high school Crimson nine will play Carlinville a baseball double header here Saturday afternoon — not Friday, not Monday.

The big Central conference double header has been announced for both next Monday afternoon and this afternoon. That's wrong!

The Crimsons will play Carlinville at the northside diamond on SATURDAY. The first of two games will get underway at 1:15 p.m.

Jacksonville high does have a game this (Friday) afternoon. Coach Kraushaar's nine travels to Pittsfield today. The Crimsons whipped Pittsfield 10-1 here two weeks ago. Ron Campbell will probably pitch.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Today marks the opening of the stock car racing season in Jacksonville. The big parade is set to roll soon after 3:30 this afternoon, Hayden Walker has announced. The rolling show should stretch out more than a mile, Walker said last night. All signs point to a gala afternoon for the stock car drivers and their backers.

—o—

But the really big show will get underway at the fairgrounds at 7 p.m. That's when time trials for an anticipated 75 stock cars will start. The first race will get underway at 8 o'clock, local Commissioner Elmer Middendorf promises.

—o—

Here's the complete program: time trials 7 p.m.; three heat races of 10 laps at 8 p.m.; two semi-finals of 15 laps; 100-lap feature to start at about 9:30.

—o—

The fairgrounds grand stand has been enlarged to seat 4,000 and Commissioner Middendorf expects more than that number to cram into the park for this opening race.

—o—

Jacksonville drivers have promised that this year will end Quincy's dominance of stock car racing in central Illinois. They're going to start doing something about it tonight. Don't miss it.

—o—

The Jacksonville Women's bowling banquet will be held at Art Schneider's Tuesday night, May 6.

—o—

Jacksonville high baseball Coach Bob Kraushaar is looking for a ball game anytime next week. The local district will get underway here next Thursday but Bob's lads won't play until the following Tuesday.

—o—

Al Miller and his family departed last night for Louisville where they'll take in the Kentucky Derby on Saturday.

—o—

There'll be softball activity aplenty at Nichols Park Sunday afternoon. Lewis Elevator's nine will meet State Hospital at 2 p.m. followed by the Murrayville Flyers and Rogerson's Coal.

—o—

In the "how time flies" department we submit this entry:

Barring unforeseen developments, the National League's "Ten Year Man Club" will welcome 15 new members into the fold by the end of the 1952 campaign.

Eligible for membership in the exclusive fraternity this year are five Cardinals, three Reds, a pair of Braves, Giants and Phillies and one Cub.

—o—

The upcoming crop of "decade" men is headed by pitchers with a total of eight moundsmen slated for initiation. Rounding out the list are five infielders and two outfielders. Nary a catcher will attain ten-year status ere the curtain descends on the current season.

—o—

Giant pitcher Dave Koslo will be the first new member to join the ranks in '52, he being carded for induction on June 2. The following chart lists the chronological order in which the 15 senior-circuiters will be embraced by the fold.

Player	Date
Dave Koslo, Giants	June 2
Max Lanier, Giants	June 24
Ken Raffensberger, Reds	July 7
Peanuts Lowrey, Cardinals	Aug. 7
Connie Ryan, Phillies	Aug. 16
Harry Brecheen, Cardinals	Aug. 23
Ewell Blackwell, Reds	Aug. 31
Eddie Waitkus, Phillies	Sept. 3
Sid Gordon, Braves	Sept. 9
Warren Spahn, Braves	Sept. 9
Joe Hatten, Cubs	End of season
George Munger, Cardinals and Eddie Stanky, Cardinals	End of season.

—o—

The National League "Ten Year Man Club" numbered 17 active members at the outset of the 1952 season with the champion Giants and Cincinnati Reds the only clubs lacking representation on the roster.

In spite of the "graybeard" connotation, the TYM club could field a nine which undoubtedly could cut quite a swath in major-league competition. From a roster of five pitchers, three catchers, five infielders and four outfielders, an imposing line-up could be fielded to include the following:

—o—

Pitchers: Murry Dickson, Howie Pollett, Johnny Schmitz, Ken Heintzelman and Dutch Leonard.

Catchers: Walker Cooper, Clyde McCullough and Ken Silvestri.

Infielders: Phil Cavarretta, Billy Cox, Bob Elliott, Pee-Wee Reese and Sibby Sisti.

Outfielders: Stan Musial, Willard Marshall, Enos Slaughter and Bill Nicholson.

—o—

Active members of the National Leagues "Ten Year Man Club" who have performed with the same club throughout their major-league careers are Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter of the Cardinals, Pee-Wee Reese of the Dodgers, Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs and Sibby Sisti of the Braves.

—o—

The Cubs boast the two top active veterans in length of major-league service in Skipper Phil Cavarretta and pitcher Emil "Dutch" Leonard. Cavarretta broke in with the Cubs back in 1934 and has served that club without a break to the present day. Leonard made his major-league mark with the Dodgers in 1933 and has worn the Brooklyn, Washington, Phillie and Cub uniform during a stretch broken only by the year 1937 which he spent with Atlanta.

Joe Dobson Spins Two-Hitter As Sox Blank A's 3-0

Philadelphia, May 1 —(AP)— Joe Dobson, Chicago White Sox veteran righthander, held the Philadelphia Athletics hitless for seven and a third innings tonight and then went on to turn in a two-hit 3-0 victory. Skeeter Kell, the A's speedster, beat out a slow roller for Philadelphia's first safety, while Dave Philley came through with the second, a ninth inning single.

Dobson had a no hitter going with one out in the eighth inning when he walked third baseman Hank Majeski. Then rookie second baseman Everett Kell hit a slow roller toward short which Chico Carrasquel bobbled momentarily and the official scorer ruled that the fleet Kell would have beaten the throw to first.

Launch Probe Into Olympic Basketball

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

New York, May 1—(AP)—A twofold investigation of the 1948 and 1952 Olympic basketball teams was started today in the wake of Judge Saul Streit's castigation of the University of Kentucky, which furnished half the 1948 team, and of published reports the 1952 squad was tinged with professionalism.

The Amateur Athletic Union appointed a five-man committee to investigate published newspaper reports that one or more members of the team chosen to play at Helsinki this summer had violated amateur rules.

In Chicago, Owen Van Camp, treasurer of the United States Olympic committee, said there probably will be an investigation of apparent misuse of funds collected to send the 1948 Olympic team to the London games.

The apparent misuse came to light in Judge Streit's statement Tuesday when he gave suspended sentences to three former Kentucky players, two of them members of the 1948 Olympic squad, for conspiring with gamblers to "fix" games.

In his 63-page statement, Judge Streit quoted Adolph Rupp, Kentucky coach, as saying that some of the money given as bonuses to Kentucky players was left over from funds collected to send the team to the Olympics.

Describing this as a definite violation of Olympic rules, Van Camp said the investigation of this report will be carried on by the National Collegiate A. A.

Hugh C. Willett, NCAA president, said yesterday he was requesting the NCAA membership committee to inquire into the present athletic policies and practices of the University of Kentucky.

Although there was no statement from Southeastern conference officials, it was indicated that the conference, of which Kentucky is a member might conduct its own investigation of possible violations of regulations. The conference executive committee is expected to meet next weekend and informed sources said the Kentucky situation probably will be discussed.

The AAU investigation apparently has no connection with the 1948 team.

It was undertaken because of published reports that at least one member of the 1952 squad had violated the amateur code.

Names of the players involved were not revealed.

Two Home Runs Give Phils 6-3 Win Over Redbirds

St. Louis, May 1—(AP)—Successive home runs by Nippy Jones and Connie Ryan, in the sixth inning, wiped out a St. Louis Cardinal lead and sent the Philadelphia Phillies on to a 6 to 3 victory here tonight. Robin Roberts kept eight Cardinal hits scattered in getting his third victory of the season.

Two were out when Jones hit his first homer of the year, scoring Willie Jones and himself with the tying runs at 3-3, and Ryan's homer, to the same spot in the bleachers, chased Cliff Chambers out of the game.

The Cardinals obtained their early lead on timely hits, aided by a throwing error by catcher Stan Lopata. Sollie Hemus singled in the first inning and as he stole second, Lopata threw into center field. Then Red Schoendienst singled him home.

Singles by Hemus, Schoendienst, a base on balls to Stan Musial and Peanut Lowery's single scored two more for the Redbirds in the fourth. That's the last the Cards saw of the plate.

Richie Ashburn's double, starting the fourth followed by Willie Jones' infield single produced the first Phillie run when Nippy Jones sent a long fly to Wally Westlake.

Then, in the sixth, the Phils went ahead to remain there.

Trout In Relief As Tigers Nip Yankees 5-4

New York, May 1 —(AP)— Dizzy Trout stifled a New York Yankee rally with a spectacular ninth inning relief job tonight as Detroit saved a 5-4 win for Art Houtteman. Successive two-run homers by Vic Wertz in the fourth and fifth innings built up an early Detroit cushion.

Trout came to the rescue of Houtteman after singles by Bobby Brown Bob Cerv and pinch hitter Johnny Mize cut the Tiger lead to one run With the tying run on third, winning run on first and none out, the bespectacled veteran cut down the Yanks one-two-three.

When Phil Rizzuto grounded to shortstop Johnny Lipton, Cerv was cut down at the plate for the first out. Johnny Hopp struck out and Mickey Mantle grounded out to first baseman Don Kolloway to end the game.

A crowd of 21,127 that turned out in chill weather for the first Yankee Stadium night game of the year saw young Houtteman subdue the Yanks with only four hits in the first eight innings.

Suddenly in the ninth he lost his stuff, and Trout came in to control the situation.

New York Stock Market

New York, May 1—(AP)—The steel strike hit the stock market hard today and knocked prices down substantially.

Losses of fractions to around 3 points were general and several active issues extended their losses to around 5 points.

Trading was the heaviest of the week at an estimated 1,400,000 shares. Yesterday's total was 1,090,000 shares.

Railroads were the greatest losers.

Steels were off fractions to around a point and fairly active. Oils, motors, rubbers, and non-ferrous metals were hard hit.

Wall street took a cautious attitude in the midst of the fight between the government and owners for possession of the closed steel mills.

U. S. Rubber dropped nearly 4 points at times.

Also lower were U. S. Steel, Republic Steel, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil (NJ), Shell Oil, Goodrich, Firestone, Anaconda Copper, American Smelting, Boeing, Du Pont and Radio Corp.

U. S. government bonds were steady in the over-the-counter market.

Hill Gail, Blue Man, Master Fiddle Is How 'Expert' Sees Derby

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

Louisville —(NEA)— What do you like in the Derby, the big heat at the Downs which I have nicknamed the Run for the Roses?

Ordinarily, I wouldn't have enough sense to do it, but I'm sticking to Calumet, Ben Jones, Eddie Arcaro and Hill Gail.

Eddie Arcaro

Ben Jones

Behind the big bay son of Bull Lea-Jane Gail, this handicapper is putting the White Oak Stable's Blue Man and the Myhelyn String's Master Fiddle, a pair that come from behind, which gives them somewhat of a bulge in the mile and a quarter of the 78th running of the Kentucky Derby.

Something like 15 will go.

The others will come from Sam E. Wilson, Jr.'s Gushing Oil, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney's Cold Command, H. G. Bockman's Happy Go Lucky, Charles T. Fisher's Sub Fleet, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Cousin, Bayard Sharp's Hannibal, Montpelier Stable's Pintor, Jack Amiel's Count Flame, the Emerald Hill Stable's Eternal Moon, Calumet's Top Blend, Freeman Keyes' Smoke Screen, J. Graham Brown's Brian Boru and Arroz, the latter third to Hill Gail and behind Windy City II in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby.

The purse is $100,000 added, of which around $90,000 goes to the winner.

Until he stopped as though shot in a seven-furlong allowance event at Keeneland, and took second to little Cold Command, Hill Gail threatened to make this the smallest Derby field since 1948.

Arcaro Rates Hill Gail

Having seen Hill Gail win the Santa Anita Derby at a mile and an eighth, I've got to throw that one out, but the record proves the colt rank, which is the racing man's way of saying that it is difficult to rate him. He is inclined to put out everything at once and get the job over in a hurry, which blazing works make clear he is capable of doing.

Donald Devine, a new kid, rode Hill Gail when he was overtaken by Cold Command. Ted Atkinson was aboard in the Santa Anita Derby and Eddie Arcaro in the Phoenix Handicap, in which he beat older horses in the Keeneland record time for six furlongs of 1:10 2/5.

Trainer Jones is shooting for his sixth Derby, Arcaro his fifth, and the combination hasn't been beaten in three tries.

Even with all that, Hill Gail requiring an excuse at Keeneland may make Blue Man the choice at something like 2-1, and give the Calumet players as much at 3-1.

Hill Gail may be coupled with Top Blend, a son of Blenheim II.

Blue Man Had It Easy

Blue Man copped one division of the Flamingo and the Experimental Free Handicap No. 2, but licked nothing of consequence doing it. The stretch-burning son of Blue Swords ran in one claiming race at two, Albeit it was $12,000.

Master Fiddle, which picked up $45,200 accounting for the Wood Memorial at a mile and an eighth, has never wanted for being up close and the son of First Fiddle hasn't turned in a real bad performance like Hill Gail.

Sub Fleet, a son of Count Fleet, could be the dark horse.

But Ben Jones has great potential in Hill Gail, and a way in the more important numbers.

And, frankly, with the possible exception of Hill Gail, there is no stickout.

Generally speaking, this year's crop of three-year-old colts appears very ordinary.

Coach Rupp Answers Judge's Blistering Attack

Winchester, Ky. April 30—(AP)—Coach Adolph Rupp, prime target of a New York jurist's blistering attack on University of Kentucky basketball policies, declared today: "I am willing for the citizens of Kentucky to be the judge."

This was the veteran coach's only reference in a Civic club address to criticism leveled at him and U. K. by Judge Saul S. Streit in New York yesterday.

Later on, Rupp asserted he favors "de-emphasizing de-emphasis," saying he doesn't know what critics want de-emphasized.

He put it this way:

"I'm a little tired of this de-emphasis business. Do they want de-emphasis on ability in sports, spectator interest, or on wining games?"

The judge denounced the U. K. basketball setup and Rupp in suspending sentence on three former Kentucky players—Alex Groza, Dale Barnstable and Ralph Beard—who admitted being guilty of accepting bribes to fix scores of games.

Judge Streit asserted Rupp and U. K. officials have to share the "responsibility for corrupting and demoralizing" the three former players.

Meantime, at Lexington, Bill Spivey, former Kentucky star center and All-America, was arrested on a fugitive warrant today at the request of New York authorities.

Spivey, who finally after a long investigation was banned last winter from further play at the University of Kentucky and ejected from the school, was indicted by a New York grand jury Monday on a charge of perjury.

Immediately following his arrest, Spivey was taken before Fayette County Judge W. E. Nichols who set bond at $500 and May 26 as a hearing date. The judge then will determine whether Spivey is a fugitive and liable for trial in New York.

Spivey has steadfastly denied any guilt, connection or knowledge of the national collegiate basketball scandal and appeared before the grand jury to testify.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, May 1 —(AP)— Top quality hogs hit the highest price in 2½ months today at $18.35 a hundred pounds. Values generally were steady to 35 cents up with sows showing the least change.

Cattle were steady to 50 cents lower as demand tapered off for the week end and sheep held steady.

Some contraction in overnight receipts of hogs, coupled with the government's announcement of buying some 25 million pounds of pork products so far, served to strengthen prices. Most butcher weights sold at $17.00 to $18.75 and sows at $14.50 to $16.25 with some going to $16.50. The estimated 9,500 hogs on sale were down 500 from advance indications.

Only a few loads and lots of choice steers at $32.75 to $35.50 represented any kind of quality beef.

A few choice heifers took $28.75 to $33.00. Cows topped mainly at $25.50, bulls at $27.50, and vealers at $37.00.

In general wooled lambs sold from $27.50 to $28.50 while choice clipped kinds sold downward from $27.50 Ewes remained at $13.50 and below. Estimated receipts also included 2,000 cattle, 300 calves, and 2,000 sheep.

GRAIN PRICES RALLY ON CHICAGO MARKET

Chicago, May 1—(AP)—There was enough short-covering going on in grains on the Board of Trade today to produce a modest rally after yesterday's sharp drop.

The big rally came shortly after the opening. From that point on the market jumped about nervously, but most contracts held above the previous close.

Brokers thought the upturn was largely a technical development, not backed by any immediate, specific news. They said grains may have been oversold with new crop wheat under government loan levels and some corn and oats contracts at seasonal lows.

Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots: wheat 2, corn 111, oats 13, rye none, barley 15 and soybeans 30.

Wheat closed ½-1¼ higher, May $2.41½-⅝, corn ½-1¼ higher, May $1.78⅛-⅜, oats ½-1⅛ higher, May 78-77⅞, rye 2 to 3 cents higher, May $1.97, soybeans 2¼-4½ higher, May $2.91¼-⅜, and lard unchanged to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $10.57.

School Boys Turn Out To Look For Garrison

More than 100 volunteer searchers, Jacksonville Boy Scouts and seventh and eighth grade students from Jacksonville schools, Thursday responded to a call for help.

They searched the reaches of the Mauvaisterre creek, from Sandusky road north of the city to Morgan lake at Nichols Park under the direction of state, county and local police officials organized by Chief of Police Ike Flynn.

The volunteers were looking for Alvey Garrison, 66 year old Jacksonville man who left his home last Friday afternoon and has not been seen since.

Chief Flynn asked for the cooperation of students at 3 p.m. Thursday, asking them to assemble at the city hall immediately after school. They responded in a rush, and it required 19 cars—police and volunteers—to take the boys to the areas plotted for the search.

The students were from all four ward schools, David Prince and Routt.

Garrison's family reported his disappearance Sunday. The word was spread by the state police network that afternoon. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, police officials in four sections of Illinois and two other states have been contacted in an attempt to contact Garrison.

BPWC Members Describe Events Of State Meeting

Each activity of the state Business and Professional Women's club convention was described by a member when the local club met Thursday evening at the Dunlap hotel. Included in the reports was the scrapbook judging, which gave a rating of excellent to the Jacksonville club.

The convention was held at Springfield April 24-27.

Miss Margaret Faye Hopper spoke on the Cecil Howard breakfast meeting, when investments under trusts were the theme. The Winnetka-North Shore club gave a skit on interviewing a candidate about the funds. A Chicago girl and member of the Quiz Kids, Norvene Norlick, was selected by the state federation to receive the use of the fund at Fletcher College.

Miss Hopper reported for Miss Elsie Evans on the Saturday morning session, which contained reports and legislative matters to be taken up at the biennial meeting at Boston in July.

A speech on the important part played by women in this country was the subject of a report by Miss Ferne Taylor. The speaker, Dr. Allen Stockdale, was featured at the Saturday luncheon.

Miss Frances Webb reported on a talk made Saturday afternoon, "A Fuller Living for a Better World." Dr. Mary L. Newman described the evening session and the speech made by Judge Sarah T. Hughes, national president, on the country's security and military strength, and the responsibility of women. Miss Hopper concluded the reports by describing the Sunday morning session, when Miss Hughes again addressed the group.

When the local club meets May 15 Dr. Raymaker of the MacMurray College faculty will be the speaker. On the supper committee will be Dorothy Henley and Phoebe Wilkins, with Mrs. Clara Williams as cashier.

Solve Housing Problem For Music Contestants

Last minute appeals over radio station WLDS Thursday morning are believed to have cleaned up the matter of housing for 2,000 contestants and instructors who descended upon the city that evening for the state music contest for Class B high schools. The competition opens Friday at sites all over the city.

The student musicians arrived in Jacksonville beginning about 5 p.m. They were directed to the information booth at MacMurray College, where each person was given the address of the home where he will reside during the contest.

The Chamber of Commerce, which is co-host with MacMurray for the big event, is providing each student with a list of restaurants in the city, a map of this area and other general instructions.

Mrs. James A. Dunlap, co-chairman of the housing committee for the Jacksonville high school band parents, said Thursday morning that "We have almost conquered the problem of finding beds for all of the contestants." She added that accommodations for 15 boys remained to be secured early in the day, but that they were taken care of before noon.

"However, some residents who have volunteered to take pupils may find they will be unable to carry through with their offers," Mrs. Dunlap said, "so we hope to have a few more volunteers for insurance."

Mrs. Dunlap and her co-chairman, Mrs. Friedrich Engelbach, issued a statement thanking the residents of the city for their cooperation. "Needless to say, it would be quite impossible to stage this contest here if it were not for the generosity of the townspeople," they said.

The competition will begin at 8:30 a. m. Friday and will last through Saturday. There will be 38 divisional contests, 13 of them taking place simultaneously at MacMurray College, the high school, churches and other sites throughout the city.

Two of the biggest delegations of contestants will hail from Albion and Fairfield. Schools in the contest range in size from 250 to 550. Ninety-nine schools will be represented.

Customers' Corner

"'Round and 'round they go"

Traditionally on May 1st, the children go 'round and 'round the Maypole singing their songs of Spring.

Going 'round and 'round in circles is fine for children, but not for adults. These days many of them are doing just that—for there's no end to trying to make ends meet, especially when you want to feed your family well.

Your A&P invites you to try regular shopping at our stores to beat the spiral of the high cost of living. It has been our aim for over 90 years now to provide more and better food to more people for less money. Perhaps we can help with your food problems, too. Come, see.

THE STORY: Dr. Basil Willing, a psychiatrist, has trailed an impostor who has been using his name, to the home of another psychiatrist, Dr. Zimmer. Basil arrives first and apparently is expected, although Basil does not know the host. He chats with a blind woman, Miss Katherine Shaw, who adds mystery by urging him to leave her. Only one guest, Mrs. Rosamund Yorke, knows Basil and they are talking when the fake "Basil Willing" appears. Rosamund seems to enjoy the situation and is present when Basil asks the impostor to explain. The man asks Basil for a chance to explain privately before being branded publicly as a faker.

IV

DR. ZIMMER was coming toward Basil.

"May I have a word with you?" said he quietly. "Please excuse us, Rosamund."

"I suppose I must." Rosamund looked at Basil. "I hope I shall see you again. I'm generally at home the last Tuesday of each month around 4 o'clock, and do bring your wife." The wonderful black velvet glinted with golden sparks as she moved away.

Zimmer looked gravely at Basil. "I've been waiting for a chance to speak to you without making a scene. Since you are not Dr. Willing, who are you? And why are you in my house?"

The little man's eyes were fixed on Basil, pleading desperately.

"It would take rather too long to go into all the details," said Basil.

"What is your name and why are you here? I must know at once!" Zimmer's peremptory tone tilted the scales in the little man's favor.

Basil turned to the little man. "Here is someone who will tell you that I am not a crook—your friend, Dr. Willing. All I wish is to apologize and get out."

"And if I call the police?"

"That's up to you. But you can hardly do so without making a scene," went on Basil blandly, "Dr. Willing is leaving with me."

"So?" Zimmer looked at the little man obliquely.

But the little man held his ground. "I'm sorry. Something of crucial importance has come up. I have to go with—this old friend of mine."

Zimmer controlled his irritation. "In that case there is nothing more to be said. Then I wish you both a very good evening."

Basil and the little man went into the hall. Otto followed to help them into their coats. He didn't speak but his eyes were watchful.

• • •

ACROSS the avenue, the lights of a French restaurant shimmered through the mist like the portholes of a ship in fog. "There's a quiet place where we can talk," said Basil.

"Suits me!" The little man seemed in high spirits now.

There was no one in the alcove facing the bar. They took one of the three empty tables there and the little man asked for a martini. "My third," he added ruefully. "I had two at Zimmer's."

When the waiter had gone, Basil lit a cigaret. "Isn't it time you started explaining?"

The little man giggled foolishly. "There was nothing I did when I called myself Basil Willing that you need be ashamed of."

"That's comforting!" Basil laughed. "But why call yourself Basil Willing at all?"

"I hardly know where to begin." The little man frowned. "I couldn't use my own name. That was impossible. It wasn't what she said that worried me."

"She?" probed Basil.

"It's hard to say how I felt when she first talked to me." The little man's speech had thickened. "Were two martinis really his limit? "I wasn't so very worried. That came afterward." He broke off as the waiter brought cocktails. He took a hasty gulp and leaned across the table. "Do you know the first thing that upset me?"

"Tell me." Basil was used to dealing with untidy minds.

"No birds." The little man spoke slowly now. "That was the thing that—frightened me. And I was frightened. I might as well admit it. I don't scare easily, but—Dr. Willing, you never heard a bird sing there, day or night." His eyelids drooped.

"Some black coffee?" suggested Basil.

"No, thanks."

"What is your real name?"

"I have credentials." His hand fumbled in his breast pocket. His hand fell away, empty. "My mind is—foggy." Again he lifted his glass. This time it did not reach his lips. It crashed to the floor as his hand dropped limply. He slumped forward in his chair, head on the table, one arm dangling.

Basil was on his feet, feeling for a pulse. The waiter came. "Too much to drink?"

"I don't know. Have you a private room? And call an ambulance. There's no time to lose."

Basil helped carry the man into the manager's office. After the waiter switched on a desk lamp and called the ambulance, Basil had him bring dry mustard, strong coffee and warm water.

• • •

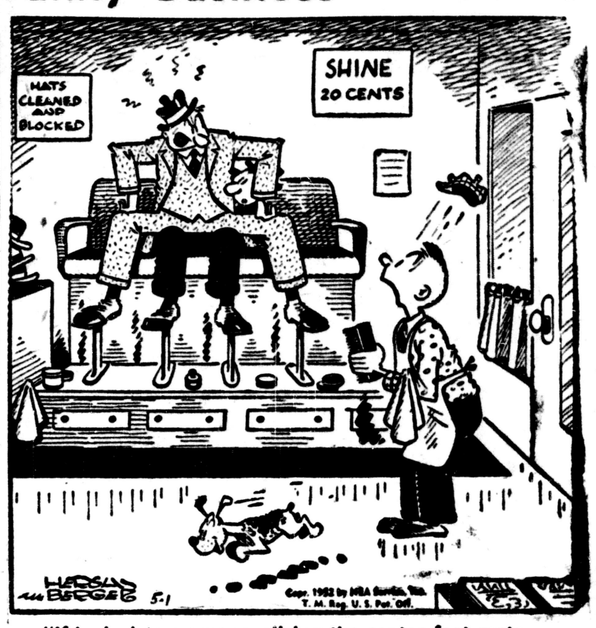

BASIL was using artificial respiration 20 minutes later when the intern arrived. Basil lifted the little man's eyelids, felt his pulse again. "Try strychnine."

The little man's eyelids fluttered. He fell sidewise against the arm of the chair. His lips parted in one long sigh. "And no—bird—sang . . ."

The intern took out his stethoscope, listened for a moment, then turned to Basil. "Too late, sir. He's dead."
